Stay for the post-film discussion about California's strategy to fight global climate change and what innovative things are happening in Napa County.

SYNOPSIS: Actor and activist Leonardo DiCaprio travels the world to examine the effects of climate change, and what can be done to save life on the planet. On his journey, he speaks with President Barack Obama, Pope Francis, and Elon Musk, and makes a speech before the United Nations calling for greater action on this issue.

This movie is part of the Environmental Education Coalition of Napa County's Environmental Film Series. All proceeds benefit the Darcy Aston Environmental Advocacy Scholarship Fund.
